

LEAD*Now!*

Pima County School Superintendent's Leadership Institute in collaboration with AEF's Principals' Leadership Academy of Arizona

LEADNow! Leadership Institute recognizes that the most important change agents in education are school leaders!

This Institute was created to support new and aspiring educational leaders in Southern Arizona in partnership with the Arizona Educational Foundation (AEF), Northern Arizona University (NAU) and the Pima County School Superintendent's Office.

The Institute

Through the LEADNow! Leadership Institute, individuals will acquire skills and applications essential to becoming an effective educational leader. Learners will gain enhanced understanding and the ability to apply professional practice, concepts and values in leadership and policy.

The LEADNow! Leadership Institute is a research and evidence-based curriculum that is delivered locally through the Pima County School Superintendent's Office in a cohort model and based on the Professional Standards for Educational Leaders 2015 developed by the Council of Chief State School Officers. Participants will attend nine monthly Saturday classes that will focus on team building, leadership skills, goal setting and more. All participants will be mentored by an AEF A+ School of Excellence™ principal and have the opportunity to visit an AEF A+ School of Excellence™ site. Students may earn re-certification hours and/or earn NAU graduate credit (with concurrent enrollment).
